

RE:MARK'S

July 2021

It's all broken and that is a good thing...

Yesterday I took down a favorite pottery goblet, stored away for years because of a great crack at the rim, and I painted that crack gold. The pieces that broke off are long gone so there was just this gap to “fix or feature,” as my former pottery teacher used to say. The gold now reimagines that cracked space as a celebrated characteristic of the goblet.

As I gently brushed the glistening, metallic sheen onto the break I thought about all the ways God brushes his shimmering, golden light onto our brokenness. One of the old prophets described us as clay jars, broken so that the light can get in or glow out.

We are all of us broken in one way or another. Age, illness, emotional or mental frailties, addiction, prejudice, fear, old wounds, there is so much that cracks us and exposes our tender spots. And today we find ourselves cracked open as a nation, as a people, and as a church. Political disruption, pandemic distress, economic upheaval, racial confrontations, extensive suffering and hardship have cracked open the veneer of life as usual and we find ourselves in a wilderness of change. It is a crisis moment. So, we, baptized to be God's expression of His love in the world, have an opportunity, in the midst of all this, to reimagine how to be church in this new world so desperate for love and healing and acceptance and restoration. And we can do this by featuring the cracks.

This week I read an inspiring book about just this chance to get back to being gospel people. The book is “The Church Cracked Open: Disruption, Decline and New Hope for Beloved Community.” In it Stephanie Spellers, Episcopal priest and assistant to the Bishop describes how this forced reimagining of church during the time of pandemic has cracked open many of the calcified ways we thought of church and invited us to begin to see how better to be the beloved community Jesus keeps calling us to be.

I thought about how we here at St. Mark's were already seeking to reach beyond our walls to fellowship with other congregations. We were reaching across racial and denominational lines to begin to affirm God's loving presence in us all and the blessing of other voices raised in praise together. Seeking to open a day care center for at risk children, and a welcoming place for refugees are two ways we are imagining. This pandemic cracked open our doors even more. For instance, our online worship has given folks who don't even live near us access to worship with us and to join in our beloved community. Or consider that folks who before sorted out between traditional and contemporary worship had to contend with worship outside the walls, with no singing and no responsive liturgy spoken or sung. And we adjusted and did what was needed to make worship and our faith life together work.

And we can do more. In this wilderness of unfamiliar terrain, we have a golden opportunity to see new ways of being the people sent out to love others as Jesus loves us all. As we have had to reimagine how to do worship, communion, music, and just being together, so now is our chance to reimagine ways to be more welcoming to those not represented in our worship to date. We can work together to continue to imagine church beyond the walls of the building and out into a community where Jesus is calling us to come along.

This cracking open of the church is a blessing. And Spellers invites us to consider these nine ways to let go of what has held us back from fully being a beloved community:

- + LOVE the face and voice of God in others.
- + CELEBRATE the cultures, gifts, and lives of rejected groups.
- + CARE and carry each other's burdens.
- + EMBRACE uncomfortable spaces and experiences.
- + SURRENDER overcontrolling behaviors.
- + RISK making the first move, sharing our own stories, and being wrong.
- + LISTEN with love to the stories of people who do not share your privilege.
- + SACRIFICE possessions and resources for the sake of love.
- + SHARE access to privileged spaces and relationships.

Some of this is already happening. Our staff and many of our teams are already moving out through the cracks to be church in wider ways. As you seek to discover just where you can be community in all this check with Pastor Matt or Deacon Katie or Cantor David or even me. But those three have been most active in painting our cracks golden so that all can see and join.

Stephanie Spellers closes her book with a poem fragment called “The Cross and the Crown” by Mark Bozzuti-Jones (also an Episcopal priest)

The Cross and the Crown

By Mark Bozzuti-Jones

Let our jars be cracked open
Let our lives be poured out
Let our lives witness to those virtues, and vows, and gospel truth
Knowing that all we do and think and say and pray matter
Crack a little further
Every single day
And let in the light
The right
The repentance
Join hearts
In the wisdom
and love and life
prepared for cracked hearts
from all eternity.

As ever I am blessed to be on this journey with you.

Shalom,

Pastor Linda

St. Mark's Faith Formation and Fellowship

Lutheridge Sunday

July 11th @10am

St. Mark's and Western North Carolina Baptist, will have worship and fellowship together at the Lutheridge campus. The service will begin at 10am followed by lunch!

For those who cannot attend the 10am Lutheridge service, there will be a brief 8:30am service of the word held at St. Mark's on Sunday the 11th.

Join us the first Sunday of every month in the Adult Classroom (near the bottom of the main staircase).

Georgia Boy Choir Concert at St. Mark's

July 14 @ 7:00 pm Free Admission / Donations Appreciated

"SOLACE - Post Tenebras Lux" was conceived in lockdown, rehearsed and recorded under health guidelines, and released as we come out of the darkness of COVID-19. The album is our gift of beauty to the world. Songs of loss, fear, and farewell make way to songs of peace, hope, and love as the choristers of the Georgia Boy Choir take listeners on an emotional journey galvanized by the poignant year of 2020. Featuring Georgia Boy Choir favorites, choral classics, and recent compositions, the "SOLACE - Live Tour" is a consolation for all offered through our signature sound.

Organ Recital

Thursday, August 5th @ 7PM

Makena James will present a recital at St. Mark's on Thursday, August 5 at 7:00 pm. The program theme is children and children at heart, and will include the Little Fugue by J.S. Bach, Fanfare Rondeau by Mouret, and Debussy's Children's Corner Suite (piano). This event is free and open to the public; an offering will be received to benefit area charities.

News & Updates

Council Corner

Greetings from the St Mark's Congregation Council!

Here are some highlights from our June 2021 Zoom meeting:

- Council reviewed and approved the responses to the 2019 and 2020 audits.
- A motion was passed to accept as new members Steve Wellington and Jo.
- Council also moved that the Archives team may, at their discretion, archive in digital format following the Smithsonian Institution Archives guidelines.
- Lutheridge Sunday is coming up July 11. We will be worshipping with our friends from WNC Baptist. Stay tuned for more details!
- James Aydelotte and Susan Denne continue to lead "Teach us to Pray" with strong attendance. Doug Johnson will teach a class based on his book "The American Jesus?" starting in July.
- Progress continues on getting our facility ready to open the Christine W. Avery Learning Center at St. Marks. We are aiming for a late August opening.
- Children's Faith Formation continues in the Fellowship Hall through the summer as a "One Room Sunday School."

Thanks for giving us the opportunity to serve.

Amy Zellers, Council President

Welcome to Our New Members!

Jo relocated to Asheville from Fort Collins, Colorado. She enjoys gardening, yoga, cooking, and reading. Jo has already joined the Library team putting her skills as a Librarian to work! We are thankful that Jo decided to stop by for a tour of St. Mark's during one of her afternoon walks!

Steve Wellington joins us from Ellicott City, MD. As a retired MRI Technologist, he enjoys traveling, gardening, cooking, and hiking. The mountain trails of WNC await his next adventure. Once the choir gets started back up, we look forward to seeing (and hearing) from Steve as he hopes to join St. Mark's choir!

Synod Summer Bible Reading Plan

During assembly, the Rev. Dr. Katherine A. Shaner, a rostered minister of the NC Synod who teaches all things New Testament at Wake Forest University School of Divinity where she is an associate professor, shared updates from the synod's Engage the Bible Task Force.

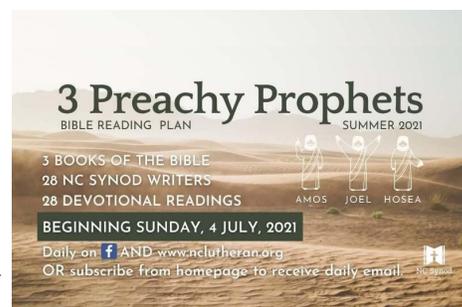

Pastor Shaner then led the assembly in a short experience with this summer's Bible Reading Plan, "3 Preachy Prophets: Amos, Joel, and Hosea." Pastor Linda Faltin (retired, Greensboro) shared via video the reflection she wrote for this summer on Hosea 2. This summer's Bible Reading Plan will help us read and reflect on three books of the Bible with 28 devotions from 28 writers from across the NC Synod.

Beginning Sunday, July 4, we will read Amos, Joel, and Hosea together as a synod—from Man-teo to Murphy, or more specifically for our synod's congregations, from Andrews to Atlantic Beach! Join us!

There are three ways to engage with "3 Preachy Prophets:"

1. Subscribe to the email list and each day's reading will come to your inbox. Visit the synod's homepage and scroll down to find a purple Sign Up form. Complete the form, check "3 Preachy Prophets," and click "Submit." (If you are already subscribed to other e-newsletters, this will just update your profile.)
2. Watch the synod's homepage. Each day's reading will post here: <https://www.nclutheran.org/>
3. Follow our synod's Facebook page. Each day's reading will also be posted.

We hope you will join Lutherans across the synod and beyond for a journey this summer with those 3 Preachy Prophets!

Crop Hunger Walk is Back—WE WALK!

WALK. GIVE. CHANGE THE WORLD.

Asheville / Buncombe
CROP Hunger Walk

September 26, 2021

Asheville, NC

The walk will be on Sunday, September 26, and as of now, will be "live" in person.

The goal of the CROP Hunger Walk is not only to raise awareness about the widespread hunger in our community and our world, but also to raise a lot of money to help organizations feed people who are in need.

Email the page to everyone you know, share on social media if that's your thing, make your own individual page, and much more. Debbie Layne can help you make this happen. Give her a call!

If you do not wish to use your computer to register for the walk, or make a donation, there will be sponsorship envelopes available as we get closer to the walk date. Checks are good too!

Sign up on web site www.crophungerwalk.org/ashevellenc, check out St Mark's page, and SPREAD THE WORD!

For additional information or questions contact Dan Dudde.

Childcare Center Update

Duke University's head basketball coach, Mike Krzyzewski, announced his retirement earlier this month and the Blue Devils wasted no time naming his replacement. When it was announced that Jon Scheyer, assistant coach and former player, would be the official coach-in-waiting, we learned (well, some of us did) of a photo taken of Coach K and a young Jon Scheyer that the coach signed "work hard and always try your best."

That's exactly what the Child Care Planning team continues to do. There have been logistical challenges but this team is working hard and trying our best along with our partners, Christine W. Avery (CWA), to establish the Christine W. Avery Learning Center at St. Mark's to start this fall. This partnership is crucial to our ministry at St Mark's. CWA has dozens of kids on their waiting list, 20 of whom will soon have access to safe, caring spaces to learn and grow at our church. St. Mark's will be welcoming the families into our building, with CWA providing care for their children. And because we are working with CWA to ensure full child care licensure, economic barriers will not prevent these families from accessing the program as they will be able to use vouchers to pay for the care. This is a powerful way to impact our community.

We're in mid-air over one of our last hurdles - that of the day care's outdoor play area. To provide for adequate playspace, we are utilizing approximately 2,100 square feet of our N. Liberty Street property as a playground. New fencing will be installed around the perimeter. Most of the trees will be incorporated into the play area (Kousa Dogwood, Southern Magnolia and Serrated Zelkova) with only an American Holly requiring removal due to having particularly pointy leaves and being on a list of potentially poisonous plants. This new playspace will become a lovely, safe space for not only the children in the day care, but also the children of St Mark's.

Lastly, some spaces, like the kitchen and nursery area, will become shared spaces. Our team is drafting a memorandum of understanding that will clarify use of these spaces with CWA. We're sure this will require some adjustment but, with this too, we feel certain we all will continue to work hard and try our best.

All in good time,

Childcare Development Center Working Team of the Long Range Planning Committee

St. Mark's Online Photo Directory Reminder

Online Church DIRECTORY

As we're getting back to worshipping together and seeing each other in person, having an up-to-date St. Mark's online photo directory is important for staying connected. You can find photos and contact information for many members there.

There's an App for that!

If you would like access to the directory on your mobile phone or other device, there is an app available for download. Search for "CTRN Online Directory" and use this privacy code: STMARKSLUTHERAN.

To Access the Online Directory:

1. Go to the St. Mark's Lutheran home page and look in the lower righthand corner, under "Stay Connected."
2. Click on "Online Photo Directory."
3. You'll see a log-in page, asking for a user name and password.
 - Your username is likely your "firstnamelastname" (without the quote marks and no spaces or punctuation).
 - If you've forgotten your password, click on "Forgot password?" You'll be taken to a box, asking for your email and user name. Then you'll get an email with directions on resetting your password. If you have forgotten your password, please contact Linda Kinsinger.

Once you're in to the directory, you can add or change any contact information you'd like. You can also add or change your photo. If you have trouble uploading a picture, please let Linda know and she will try to help. The picture doesn't have to be anything formal – a selfie taken with your phone is fine. Don't forget to click on "Update" to save any changes you've made. Note that there's both a family account and an individual member account. You may have questions about the security of this site. You can find the privacy policy on the sign-in page, at the bottom of the sign-in box. Your information is encrypted and the company does not sell any personal data to third parties. You won't get ads from having an account. You control how much or little information is displayed. As always, it's a good idea to change your password regularly or if you have any concerns about security.

Please Contact Linda Kinsinger if you have any questions about the online directory @ lkinsinger@mac.com and she can help you!

Financial Update

Financial Report

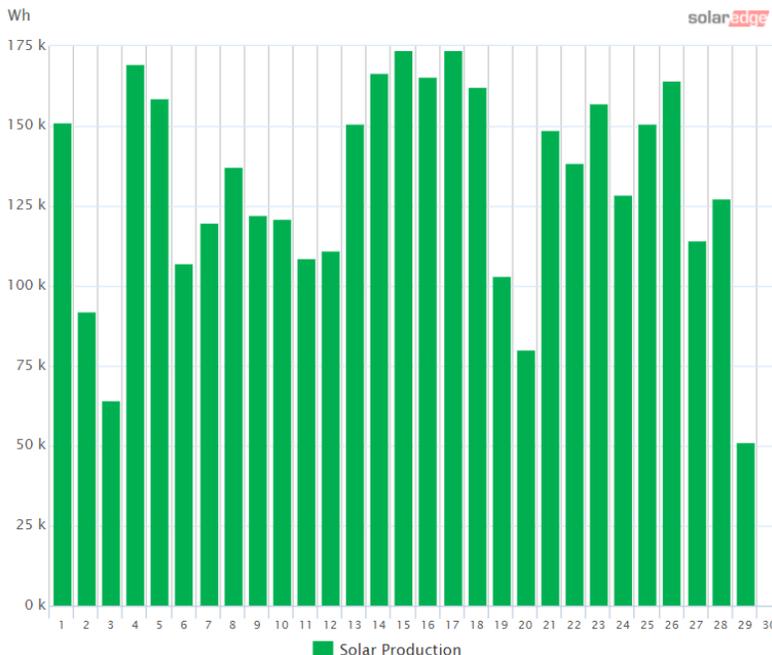

Below you will find May's financial report for both the Operation Fund and the Building Fund.

As part of our financial plan, we will be issuing mid-year contribution and pledge statements. These will be found in the Commons throughout the month of July. In an effort to save the $.55 postage per envelope, please pick up your contribution statement by July 25th. After this date, the letters will be mailed to the address the parish office has on file.
